

MODI-THE MASTER POLITICAL HEALER

Healer is a person who ends your sufferings, turmoil and pains. There is subtle difference between a healer and a doctor. The doctor reduces or eliminates sufferings and pains which are related to physical-body. The doctor ends only physical pain, the healer heals all kinds of pains. These pains may be physical, psychological or emotional. Sometimes, the healer-doctor has to do a surgery with the intention of curing the pain permanently so as to heal in the long run.

When the society develops and politics makes it move, there are bound to emerge some social-economic-political sufferings at society level. When India started its journey post independence, there cropped up pangs of economic development which led to sufferings of many areas, sections, regions, social-groups etc,. The so called 'Fabian-socialist' development strategy adopted by India led to Intra and inter regional, social-groups and class differences and discriminations. These cropped up in the form of many movements, upheavals and agitations. These upheavals slowly led to social-unrest in the form of socio-political ulcers.

It is a fact that while following the path of social-economic post independence growth which was not inclusive and all pervasive; we made many blunders. These emerged as political-wounds which are inflicting pains on the body-politik of our Nation. There were many issues which owing to various reasons remained unfinished and snowballed in to full-fledged problems and crisis. Thousands innocent people and our brave security personnel have lost their lives for protecting the 'idea of India'. A political healer is not only who cures these political ulcers either through treatment or surgery but also through removing the alienation of the distressed sections of the society who have undergone the sufferings. There were many political-ulcers plaguing India since Independence. There were political-diseases, infections and wounds which remained unaddressed either deliberately or owing to the lack of political will and expertise.

One of the issues in post-independence India was the issue of Kashmir. It led to internal strife and terrorism in Kashmir valley killing thousands of innocent people. The issue of Kashmir emerged as big ulcer on the body politik and has led to 3 wars between India and Pakistan. This was mishandled in a way that it led to a political-wound which slowly degenerated into a permanently bleeding political-ulcer. The so called political-leaders just allowed themselves to benefit from the situation instead of addressing it. The ulcer was perpetrated by our neighbor-country to bleed India in Kashmir through sponsoring terrorism on account of incompleteness of the finished agenda of India's independence. There was a war-cry by Pakistan to bleed India for 1000 years. Thanks to the decisive, firm and out of box expertise of the master-surgeon, Sh. Modi ji, the issue of Kashmir which was draining the wealth and resources of the nation and has led to the alienation of people of Kashmir has been solved. Surgery of the Kashmir wound was successfully done. Further, the healing was made through massive work of development. Ask any Kashmiri-Pundit who suffered for the 30 years and became refugee in their own country, what healing means! So was the healing of people of Ladakh who have been ignored by the pathetic approach of the governments and were totally alienated. The healing-touch worked like a magic in North-east states also.

Another issue of contention which was creating communal-tension was the issue of Ram-Temple. Who could have imagined that one of the most contested issues of India body politik would be solved without even a drop of blood. The pride of Indian-culture has been restored. With the construction of Ram-Mandir started, national resurrection in the form of national pride has been restored with millions of Indians getting satisfaction that their dream has been fulfilled and justice has been done to them.

Another area where the pride of India has been healed is in the area of reviving India's image in International-affairs. With his pro-active Modi doctrine, India has emerged as a key player at sub-regional, regional and global level. The influence of India has increased in diplomatic and strategic affairs. The various evacuation-operations- be it in Afghanistan or any other troubled hot-spot, people of India have a hope that the government will act and will act decisively to save them.

The worst crisis of the century for whole humanity was Corona-virus. The way India addressed this virus born calamity is exemplary. India developed its own vaccination. India has not only saved its own population with its 90 crores vaccination till date which is highest in the world. It got a distinction of 2.26 crores vaccination in a day which itself is a record as it tantamount to vaccinating more than the population of Australia in a day! This healing was not confined to India only but the vaccination doses were gifted to the people of the world. India is emerging as a true Global-healer under the master-healer.
